F. M. Joslin, for thirteen years in the clothing business in Big Rapids, has determined on removing to Asheville, N. C., where he thinks the climate will be more favorable for his health, he being a sufferer from bronchial troubles.

Here is either the best wheat field or the most beautiful wheat field in Michigan;

Alonso Lamberton, of Howard, Cass county, threshed 1,129 bushels of wheat from an 18-acre field, nearly 60 bushels to the acre.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

Mr. Geo. E. Carr has left some gold with the Lowell Journal which he found on his farm and which he would like to have experts call and examine. He is strong in the faith that it will pay to dig for it.

But he left it in a dangerous place.

Next Sunday the corner-stone of the new Catholic Church of Pontiac will be laid with appropriate services. Dr. C. O.

Reilly will deliver an address. The service will be conducted by Bishop Bergonne, assisted by eminent Catholic clergy.

J. B. Russell, the young man who was so severely hurt in Towle's mill at Sberdient about four weeks ago by having a sharp stick driven through his abdomen by a saw, has so far recovered that he is about the streets. Two holes were cut in the intestines by the stick.

D. C. Goff, with his family and Jay Vradenburg, started Monday morning from Shelby, for Tennessee. They will perform the journey in a wagon, after the emigrant style. Mrs. Goff and the youngest children riding in a buggy. It is expected they will be on the road about six weeks.

Muskogee does not ship over one-half ing mill and dealers in all kinds of dressed and undressed lumber, also manufacturers of all kinds of parlor and bed-room furniture, tables, etc. The capacity of their planing mill is about 10,000 feet per day. The mill has been in operation only one year, and the machinery is, therefore, new. The present firm took charge of the mill last spring, and are pushing the business as much as possible. Orders for either hard or soft lumber will be promptly filled by them.

Harry Hixon is a genial fellow, and very popular. He has the facility to turn his hand to almost anything in a mechanical way. He is at present deputy sheriff of the county having received his appointment last spring, and he is able to fill the bill to perfection.

He served as a soldier in the Union army during the war. He is at present dealing in boots and shoes in a small way, and doing custom work, but expects to open a large establishment this fall.

C. A. Lamb is another of Manton's exsults, and his popularity with the public is shown in the fact that he served as justice of the town from 1877 to 1881, and is now again serving in the same capacity after a retirement of three years. He is also a notary, and carries an extensive line of fire insurance companies for which he does business.

Dr. J. L. Weston is one of the leading physicians of the county and also an extensive lumber dealer. He belongs to the Eclectic school of medicine and has been in practice in the town for six years past. He now owns quite a large amount of standing timber and is prepared to furnish either hard or soft wood lumber to order. He also has a pool and billiard table and restaurant fixtures which he offers for sale at a bargain.

W. M. Scanton is proprietor of the leading billiard parlors of the town. Mr. Scanton has been a resident of the town the greater part of the time for the past ten years and is considered one of the pioneers of the place.

The Manton Tribune, published by Charles E. Cooper, is the only newspaper in Manton and appears to be doing a thriving business.

It is doing much to increase the prosperity of the town and deserves a liberal patronage.

If the merchants would advertise their liabilities in it they would be benefited and the paper would prosper.

Rinaldo Fuller is the popular druggist of Manton. He carries a fine stock of drugs, by astonishment caused by his question,

"What child?"

"There is no use denying it," replied the old gentleman; "I distinctly heard the voice of a small child coming from this room."

At that instant the voice of a baby, coming directly from the side of the young man, was heard. Horror struck, he quickly turned down the bed clothes, and when the form of a child about six months old was brought to light. The old gentleman, after inquiring about his son's whereabouts the previous evening, sent the infant to the home on Chardon street.

The young man, it may be said, was unmarried, and was ignorant as to the manner in which he obtained the child, but had a faint recollection of placing something in bed upon his arrival home. He has left off drinking, having signed the pledge. He says that it is bad enough to see snakes when he gets drunk, but when he finds himself in possession of a baby, then it is time to leave off drinking.
